

Open call for themed issue proposals

Problemy Polityki Społecznej. Social Policy Issues is a peer-reviewed scientific journal devoted to social policy, the welfare state and social problems. The mission of the journal is to deepen the understanding of social policy and social issues in Central and Eastern European countries.

The journal has been published by University of Warsaw since 1999. All articles published in the journal are open-access, and they are published free of charge. The journal is indexed in the Scopus, ERIH PLUS, EBSCO and other databases.

<http://www.problempolitykispolecznej.pl/About-the-Journal,2300.html>

We are pleased to launch a call for a themed issue to be published by the end of 2022. We invite proposals which can be on any topic relevant to SPI's aims. Proposals should include: 1. an indicative title and name(s) of proposed editor(s) 2. a short statement as to how the proposed themed issue relates to the aims and objectives of SPI. 3. 6-8 abstracts for the proposed articles.

Proposals should be sent to Maria Theiss, Editor-in-Chief at problemy.ps@uw.edu.pl by the deadline of 15th November 2021. Applicants will be informed about the selection by early December 2021.

